Rabjohn elected warden of Haliburton County

by Jerry Grozelle

Ross Rabjohn, reeve of Sherborne et al, has been elected as warden of Haliburton County for the coming year.

The election took place at the inaugural meeting of the new council at Hyland Crest's auditorium on December 13.

Two people were nominated for the warden's job. Jeanne Anthon, reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, nominated Lutterworth reeve Jim McMahon for a second term and Snowdon reeve George Simmons nominated Rabjohn.

McMahon said that when he was elected as warden of the county last year, he had a plan to improve the quality of life in Haliburton County. He explained that the execution of that plan has not yet been completed. McMahon said that if he was re-elected, he would work with county council to fulfil that initiative.

McMahon described himself as hard working, unselfish, conscientious, straight, honest, fair and creative, among others.

"These words have been used to describe me by taxpayers in the Highlands," he said. "I would be reticent if I did not agree that they are part of my self image."

McMahon added the adjective modest to the list.

"I am a modest man who wishes only to serve his community, his family and his conscience," McMahon stated.

McMahon highlighted some of the accomplishments of county council over the past year under his leadership.

"We recruited Terry Noble as clerk/treasurer, versus hiring a CEO for a savings of $40,000," he pointed out.

He cited a savings of $100,000 by the elimination of planning and waste management because of a lack of consensus among the 10 municipalities.

Installation of a new computer system, the hiring of human resources manager Sue Trayes, the creation of job descriptions, policy and procedures and a health and safety manual were also listed as achievements.

McMahon also listed some of the issues that he felt still needed to be resolved. They included a decision on what to do with the approved infrastructure funding; the restructuring of the County Roads Department; Support for the hospital recommendations; support for the forest owners regarding tax assessment; negotiations with the Ministry of Natural Resources regarding the winter lake trout fishery; and the encouragement of light industry within the county.

"I ask you to weigh your vote with care and gravity and to ignore any preconceived conceptions or perceptions or partisan geography and join with every member of council to elect Jim McMahon as warden for Haliburton county for a second and final term," he appealed.

McMahon added that many changes

Motion draws mixed reaction

by Jerry Grozelle

What's important to some is redundant to others. That was the case with a motion presented by Acting Health Services Board member Ted Wilkes at last week's meeting of the board.

Wilkes introduced a motion, basically reaffirming the resolution passed by the board on October 12, but adding a second part which welcomes the Ministry of Health's support, in principle, for the motion and expressing a need "to define the configurations of the two health centres based on the need for services and current funding allocations."

Board members spent more than an hour debating the pros and cons of Wilkes' motion. Clearly, many of the board members felt there was no need for the motion. Len Wilson termed it redundant. Barbara Dawson, said that she resented being put in a position of having to vote on such a motion because "it forces us to do something we don't want to do."

There was also some concern that the credibility of the board in the eyes of the ministry may be in jeopardy if new resolutions reaffirming the content of previous motions continue to be passed.

Wilkes insisted that it was necessary to confirm the ministry's support of the entire October 12 resolution to satisfy the people who will have to be approached to raise the county's share of the funding. He steadfastly refused to withdraw his motion and called for a recorded vote.

Board chair Stuart Baker summed up his opinion of the motion by stating that he felt Francis Donaldson (left) and Malcolm Boyes of Gull River Homecare. The store closes December 31, 1994.

Gull River Homecare: victim of economy

by Andrew Milne

Staff of the Gull River Homecare will be out of a job as of December 31, 1994.

Northern Planing Mills, which runs the store, has decided to close it as of the new year.

The decision was made at the beginning of November, and the staff has been informed. The business currently employs six people.

Malcolm Boyes manages the store, which has been under the ownership of Northern for nine years now. Says Boyes, "The decline in business [is] due primarily to the economic times, and the changing economic conditions are largely responsible. There's just not been sufficient volumes to justify the investment that it takes to operate a store like this."

"I would say the numbers have not been good for the last two to three years," he continues. "They have not been where we'd like them to be, let's put it that way. Not necessarily am I saying we've been losing money, but let's say the numbers have not been where I'd like them to be over the past two to three years."

"It's not such a shock to us as owners," he continues. "We've been monitoring the situation over the last two to three years in particular. And we've been trying to determine if the economy is going to improve sufficiently in the foreseeable future. It doesn't appear as though that is happening even though the government are indicating that things are improving. It doesn't appear that in fact is a reality yet."

Not all of the staff will necessarily be looking for work in the wake of the closure. Some of them are close to retirement, says Boyes, and will likely just take it early.

Francis Donaldson was at the cash when The Times came by for pictures.

Donaldson has worked at the Gull River store for nine years now — ever since Northern purchased it from the previous owners. He expects to retire soon anyway, and says the closure doesn't worry him that much.

But asked what he expects to do after the closure, he replies, "I haven't got a clue."

"I'm going to look for work," he continues, "and if I don't find it, I'm going to be working for Bob Rae."

New warden encourages positive attitude

have taken place over the past three years, including a severe recession, social contracts and less funding from the province.

"We can no longer do business the old way," he said. "We are in a changing world and we must change with it."

McMahon concluded by saying that the new council will have to look seriously at restructuring. He promised to continue to serve, co-operate and contribute for the betterment of the county, regardless of the outcome of the election of warden.

Rabjohn began by posing the question: "Can we look at where we sit as councillors for the next three years?"

He said that on one side, there are the taxpayers, who want better roads, marketing of Haliburton County, ambulance service, fire service, hospital care and the creation of more jobs and on the other side, the province is demanding county official plans, waste management plans, better health and safety practices, changes in health care and social services and compliance with social contract demands.

"We have our employees, who work hard during all the turmoil to do our bidding and they wish to be recognized," he said. "We have our own municipalities, who have their own specific needs to address." He added that above it all, is the cry by county taxpayers for government restraint and a plea not to increase taxes.

As a solution to the above problems, Rabjohn said: "We will have to set out to create a leaner, but I hope not meaner, county government. What is needed above all is a positive atmosphere. When times are tough, there is a tendency to blame someone else for the problem. It must be resisted. There is also a tendency to play defense -- to defend your own corner at all costs."

Rabjohn added that in this day of faxes and computers with Internet and cellular telephones, there is no Minden or Haliburton or Dorset or whatever.

"There is Haliburton County," he stated. "In this day of global economy, of North American free trade, we cannot focus on local differences. We cannot just play defense. We need some offence, but offence will not work if all the players are arguing over their rights and not looking out for the rest."

Rabjohn added that Sherborne needs Haliburton County and vice versa. "What's good for one municipality is good for all," he said. We cannot develop one area at the expense of another. We must work to develop all; to grab every opportunity offered to us; to take some risks and try some offence.

"Let us be positive, cheerful and confident," he concluded. "Address the issues, but never the personalities. And let us find what is good for Haliburton County."

After listening to both candidates deliver their campaign speeches, county clerk-treasurer Terry Noble called for a vote by secret ballot.

When the votes were counted, it was confirmed that Ross Rabjohn would be the county warden for the coming year.

Motion passed after lengthy debate

bound to vote for it, because "a vote against it may be construed as a vote against the October 12 motion."

Wilkes said it was a mission statement.

"We want to make loud and clear our commitment to the entire package of the October 12 resolution," he said.

The wording of the ministry's letter, which congratulated the board on its decision to locate the acute care beds at the Haliburton Hospital and its "subsequent motions", is what precipitated Wilkes' motion. He expressed the concern that the ministry may be focusing on one part of the October 12 motion and ignoring the rest, which, he says are equally important.

When the vote was taken, seven voted for it, four abstained and one voted against it. The motion was carried.

Wilkes said later that the intent of the motion was to bring the board closer together.

Ministry of Health representatives Sheri Weisberg and Elaine Bishop attended the Acting Health Services Board meeting. Weisberg explained that the wording of the ministry's letter regarding the October 12 resolution was unfortunate and that the intent was to endorse the entire resolution as presented.

"The ministry is 150 per cent behind this project," she said.

Weisberg and Bishop presented a financial overview of Ontario's health system and fielded questions from board members and the audience.

The presentation included Ontario's Health Reform agenda, planning for health care services. Definitions for primary, secondary and tertiary health care were offered as well as definitions for the levels of service delivery, including acute, chronic and long-term care.

The ministry representatives explained that the Acting Health Services Board for Haliburton County and Area is on track with the ministry's agenda for its first six months. Goals for the next 12 months, 18 months and 24 months were outlined.

Jerry Rome, speaking as president of the Staunworth Non-Profit Housing Corporation, asked the ministry officials to define what emergency care will consist of in Minden. He said that many people, especially the older residents are extremely concerned that they are going to lose 24 hour emergency services.

"They have been asking if it is going to be safe for them here," Rome said.

Weisberg reiterated that it will be up to the board to decide what level of emergency services will be available in Minden.

The bottom line will be, what level of service will the board be able to afford to provide, given the funding that will be available.

Joyce Gostock suggested that even if the facility in Minden isn't fully staffed for 24 hours a day, there could be a system implemented whereby doctors and nurses could be on call and services could be available within minutes.

Applications received

Advertisements for an administrator for Haliburton's health care system have been placed recently and a number of responses have already been received.

Frank Lussing of St. Joseph's Hospital and Health Care Centre said that the job will be a very challenging one.

"There is a very high level of interest," Lussing said. "It is an attractive opportunity and there will be a very talented group of applicants."

The selection process is expected to result in a job offer early in February.

Fire services review presented at County Council

by Jerry Grozelle

Dave Carr, fire services advisor with the Ontario Fire Marshall's office in Peterborough and his counterpart from Lambton County, Barry McKinnon, attended the county council meeting to present a fire services review for Haldimanton County.

Although numerous issues are being dealt with, Carr said: "We have a tremendous amount of work ahead of us."

A number of fire issues were discussed, including fire prevention and education; communication (dispatching); implementation of 911 service; training; sharing of resources and trained personnel; and establishment of a lot identification (numbering) system.

"We'll have to get out and meet the residents to determine what is needed," Carr told council.

McKinnon explained how a shared dispatching service in Lambton County has resulted in a significant reduction in the overall cost of communication.

"We have to set aside traditional ways of doing things," McKinnon explained.

Lambton's emergency services are dispatched from a central ambulance communications centre.

"They all know who's going, when and where," McKinnon said. "It started as a pilot project and it turned out far better than we'd hoped."

By combining such things as fire and ambulance communications, it eliminates duplication of services, resulting in savings to the service providers.

Snowmobilers escape injury when sleds plunge through ice

by Carol Moffatt

Two Orillia-area snowmobilers who are unfamiliar with the area where they were riding had a close call last Wednesday when their machines plunged through the ice of South Lake.

The brand new 1995 machines, a Ski-Doo Mach I and a Yamaha VMAX 4 were pulled from six feet of water about 200 feet from shore Thursday afternoon. Both riders walked away without injury.

South Lake resident Mark Lester, publisher of Ontario Snowmobiler magazine, was outside his nearby home when the dunking occurred and immediately went to the aid of his fellow snowmobilers. After several attempts to surface the machines, Lester called Boshkung-area scuba diver Tony Aymong to co-ordinate the retrieval.

Under strict instruction not to damage the snowmobiles, Aymong used a traditional tug o' war line to surface the machines before letting a tow truck drag them to shore with its winch. The machines were taken to be dried out and checked over at Lester's garage before being transported back to Orillia.

The owner of one machine wasn't present at the retrieval and the, somewhat embarrassed, driver of the other refused to be interviewed.

"People really should make sure they know where they're going on ice. One mistake in judgement makes for a cold, expensive weekend -- if you live," said Aymong, who expects to retrieve as many as 10 snowmobiles from area lakes this season.

Three snowmobilers have already died this season in the Muskoka area and police are warning riders not to be too eager to get out on the ice. Haliburton riders are also cautioned to remember that emergency services are unavailable where ice and water are concerned since local fire departments have been forbidden to participate in such rescues.

Submobile: South Lake area residents help to retrieve one of two snowmobiles that went through the ice last week.

Haliburton Weekend Show*CHTV informs, entertains local cable TV viewers

by Andrew Milne

"This is from the heart — out of love for the county I guess. Because I do love this county."

That's Al Sumpter, explaining why he chose to start himself a television show on the Haliburton Highlands.

They call themselves CHTV, and between the two of them they put out a weekly talk-show format television show on events in Haliburton County.

Sumpter and partner Kris Kadwell have so far put together 12 episodes of the show. It's called Haliburton Weekend, and airs weekly on local community cable stations in Minden and Haliburton.

Up to an hour long (community cable is pretty flexible about scheduling), the show features whatever the team can come up with between the two of them.

So far, they've taken their single camera to local fairs like the highland games, into restaurants to film local musicians in action, and into the forests to film Haliburton Forest and Wildlife owner Peter Schleifenbaum talking about forest management and the Ontario government's decision to cut the Managed Forest Tax Rebate program.

Hamming it up: Kris Kadwell and Al Sumpter on the set of CHTV's Haliburton Weekly show.

With one camera and little time for editing, the pair describe themselves as "the egg timer station", after the egg timers they use to time segments.

With one camera, explains Sumpter, you can't easily switch from one shot to another in the course of an interview. The single point of view, a camera stationary for long periods of time, can make for a show that's visually tiresome.

"What we've done," he says, "is try to keep each segment three minutes or less. That way you have the viewability. After that it's pretty deadly."

The original idea for the show came from Sumpter, who runs a video production company in Toronto.

"In all honesty," he says, "it's kind of a way of giving back to the community. I first came here in 1970, and I was welcomed to the county. I think we need to give back, and it just seemed like a nice venue, because I'm experienced in video production. So it just seemed like a logical step."

Sumpter's production company makes money from commercial film — training films and promotional work. However, he also finds time to do documentaries. He recently shot one in Chile, dealing with families of people who "disappeared" during the military rule of Augusto Pinochet.

"It was five women whose husbands had disappeared," said Sumpter. "It was approximately ten, twelve years after. It just dealt with the lack of closure, and with the kids too."

Kadwell says the station is already getting calls from people volunteering, but they're always looking for more.

"We're starting to get a lot of people enthused about wanting to become involved," says Kadwell. "When Al went down to the city we got three or four phone calls — people just wanting to offer their time."

"Something we're really trying," says Kadwell, "one of our goals — is to keep the whole thing local, including the whole process, meaning the editing process, that kind of thing. We're really keen on building a little to get our own editing equipment. Right now we're using facilities down in Toronto — Al's got a connection — but there's an expense and time involved."

The editing process, says the pair, is gruelling. Even with their relatively simple requirements (they essentially just stitch the three minute segments together), it takes them about seven hours per show. And they usually do the work through the middle of the night, since this is when it's easiest to get time in the editing room.

The two are eventually hoping to get community sponsorship of the shows — similar to the idea in public television where a firm will pay towards production, and be able to call themselves a sponsor on the air, before and possibly during the show.

The show airs Tuesdays at 6:30 pm on Minden's community cable station, and Saturdays at 6:30 pm in Haliburton. People without cable can catch the show at McKecks Place or Kei's Restaurant in Haliburton, and at the Dominion Hotel in Minden.

No other place we'd rather be

Unemployment. Crime. Apathy and indifference. Racism. Bigotry.
Separatism. Mistrust.

Pick your poison.....it won't take long to find somebody who is railing against all the things that are wrong in our society and country today.
And, of course, they are absolutely right. There are lots of aspects of our lives which are sadly askew with the way most would like to see things happen. Unfortunately, it is easier, or perhaps just human nature, to dwell on the negative, and by doing so crowd out the realization of how well-off we really are....and that we are in fact attempting to come to grips with those things that bedevil us.

The Christmas season always provides an excellent opportunity for the brighter side of human existence to shine through. Here, for example, the effort that went into ensuring no member of our community would go wanting this Christmas provided an good indication that in fact people do care. Sure, it is easy to say that there shouldn't be need in a land as rich as our's. However, while steps are taken to help eliminate that condition, the community stands ready to lend a hand.

Despite its flaws and scars, our country and our community is one of the most desirable in which to live.
And it will continue to be so because people care about what is wrong and strive to fix it.

So as we celebrate at this special time of the year, let us be ever mindful and thankful there is a great deal more that is right than wrong about this place we call home.

Does not accept 'the blame'

Editor:

As a woman I must respond to No Weibe's letter on last week's Times editorial page headlined 'Togetherness Attitude'.

I certainly do not "take the blame for everything that is wrong on the face of the earth". I do take responsibility for my actions, including those which may have been harmful to our planet and to other people on the planet.

Speaking for myself, I have acted in the past out of ignorance and out of a lack of awareness of how the world, and more specifically, our culture has changed my behaviours and my attitudes. Hopefully now, being more aware, experienced and more confident of myself as a woman and as a human being on this planet, I will be part of the solution and not part of the problem.

Every individual has his or her own power, but not every individual knows that to blame all women and only women, ignores the realities of our lives.
Blame does not help find a solution.

Instead, helping us women to open up to our potential, encouraging us as we grow and being a good role model through the whole process, would be much more helpful in changing attitudes. Also, acknowledging the women who are working hard to effect change, and there are so many in our community and in the world, would be most helpful.

Men must also be made aware of women's need to be responsible members of our society.
Until there is no wife assault, rape and pornography, it is very difficult for a woman not to feel fear and intimidation when she stands up for what she believes in.

There are many men who are aware in our community and in the world.

So many attitudes need to change so that men and women can "share and share alike." I believe they can. I want to work toward that goal.

The scales have tipped too far

Editor:

Re: No Wiebe's letter of December 12.

Although you may receive many negative responses concerning her editorial, I for one, have to agree with her.

I feel the scales of fair play have tipped far too far toward the "Opportunist Feminine Ideals" A true example of this is "the feminist movement itself."

These women have been given the power to create a society of equality but instead have chosen to use this acquired political status to create unbearable legal, professional and family situations for most males and protesting females, should they not get their own way.

Secondly, they spend much of their time whining, bitching, protesting about being victims of a society they played a major role in creating, while sidestepping the issues that should really be addressed.

Unfortunately Ms Wiebe, it may require someone like yourself to change these attitudes, as men are legally, professionally and domestically handcuffed.

Only the almighty lawmaker and a few observant citizens know what truly lies in the hearts and minds of these women and in my mind furthering their own personal interests is a possibility.

Of course in the interest of fair play, you could give them a chance to respond, but we all know they'd side-step the issue with chanting, picketing and protesting, of course it would take them at least two months to get approved government funding for these activities.

At least the candlemakers, signmakers and lawyers will be doing a brisk business while the male of the species is sold out, cut off and out of order!

I quote Richard Bach "Minds must change before events happen!" Remember when publicity WAS the soul of justice?

The Rockcliffe on wheels?

Editor:

Re: Council approves request for chip truck licence (The Times, December 12)

I was wondering why we are thousands of dollars in arrears in water/sewer and municipal taxes. We are levied taxes of $2500.00 in water and sewers and over $7790 in municipal taxes per year.

My establishment employs 15 year-round employees and we are busy for approximately eight weeks of the year. It would have been nine weeks, but council cancelled "Ride for Sight". During these eight weeks we try to earn enough money to pay our taxes and cover our losses for the remaining 44 weeks. I guess it's not working.

Mr. Hutchinson explained, "he doesn't compete with sit-down restaurants". It may surprise no one to know that the Rockcliffe Snack Bar, Dave's on 35, Subway, Brown Owl, Mark's Godfather Pizza, Mr.

D's, B.J.'s, Village Chalet, Dominion Hotel, Kawartha Dairy, Gramma's Fish and Chips, the Corner Store and even Stop 35 and Jug City all provide take-out service. Wow, what a tax base! No wonder council can afford to have a chip truck operate for $500 a year.

How can council give approval for a chip truck licence for $500 when Mr. Hutchinson 'thinks' he's further than 1,000 feet away from a take-out food operation? I would imagine Dave's on 35 would think he is within 1,000 feet. Perhaps council should take the time to investigate the matter.

I'm thinking of putting the Rockcliffe on wheels. It would certainly save me a lot of money.

Park missed

Editor:

The parents of the Minden Co-op Play School would like to express our concern and disappointment over the loss of the community park. We were surprised and upset with the fact that the park disappeared with virtually no notice and without firm plans for a new location on hand.

We were pleased to read in The Times on Monday, December 5, 1994, that council are looking into possible park sites. We feel strongly that an in-town location is needed to service town residents/children as well as seasonal/permanent residents who often frequent the park while doing errands in town. It was mentioned by one of our members that at one time plans had been drawn up to develop a park adjacent to the county museum and behind the European Bakery,

We live in weird times

America has the longest prison sentences in the west, yet the only condition they demonstrably cure is heterosexuality

The New York Times

We live in weird times, my friends. Consider the latest prison statistics from our friends south of the border. The statistics show that for the first time in history there are more than one million inmates behind bars in the USA.

One million jailbirds. As our own C.D. Howe once scoffed, What's a million?"

I'll tell you what a million is. It's the entire population of Saskatchewan. It's two Winnipegs. Eight Thunder Bays. A million people is 28 sold out Blue Jay games at the SkyDome.

A million people is a lot to have in jail. Especially for a country that likes to bill itself as The Land of the Free.

Just by way of contrast, let's pay a visit to a place that Ronald Regan once billed as the Evil Empire. Let's check out what is left of the Union of Soviet Socialists Republics.

Schisselburg Fortress might be a good place to begin our tour. Its a castle that squats on a wind-lashed island in the Baltic Sea just offshore from St. Petersburg.

It's a far cry from the Magic Castle at Disney world--and well it might be. Schisselburg has been a prison for most of the past 300 years. It was the Kingston Pen of Czarist Russia. Well, truth to tell, daily life at Schisselburg made a stretch at Kingston Pen look like an afternoon at a Presbyterian Strawberry Social.

A lot of Russian personae non grata went through the gates of Schisselburg. Not one of them ever came out. Schisselburg had high walls, mean guards and a very efficient firing squad and a most commodious graveyard.

All of which would lead you to believe that modern-day liberated Russians can hardly wait for the day when Schisselburg Prison is transformed into a Taco-Bell Drive-Thru, right?

Wrong. A Moscow entrepreneur by the name of Alexander Nefyodov has taken over Schisselburg Prison and turned it into....

... a prison hotel.

You read right. Russians can now sign up to spend a week at Schisselburg as a prisoner.

Mind you, they must be wealthy Russians. The price tag for a week in a cell is $550. For that, "clients" receive an iron bed which folds out from the wall, plus wooden table and bench.

Also, a light bulb that never goes out, and yes, you are locked in your cell.

It's not all grim. The $550 also covers visits from a 'prison psychologist' who will help the inmates evaluate and assess their mental conditions.

It is too early to say whether Comrade Nefyodov's speculative gamble will pay off or not, but if it does, we shouldn't be surprised..

We live, as I said, in weird times.

We live in a time when Hollywood is busy shooting a movie about the trial of O.J. Simpson---while the trial of O.J. Simpson is still going on.

We live in a time when a man who would be King of the British Empire reveals he would rather be a tampon.

We live in a time -- I'm not making this up -- when a Yuppie clothier by the name of J. Crewe can advertise without a hint of a smirk, "pre-ripped jeans".

The J. Crewe fall catalogue advises all would-be jeans buyers that "we have now allowed for more impatient sorts with our 'new' slashed jean that looks ten years old on day one."

And hey -- they only charge an extra six bucks for ripping those jeans for you -- ten bucks if you want both knees out.

My course is clear. I'm going to sell off all my crummy old jeans on the black market and use the money as a down payment on a cell in Schisselburg.

I could use a week to get away from it all.

Park needed

Special Effects and Dr. John Purc's office. Is there still such a plan? Is the property still municipally owned?

We'd like to strongly encourage other concerned residents, parents, business and community groups to write the Anson, Hindon and Minden council to ensure that Minden finds a suitable park location within town. A community park project lends itself to becoming a whole community experience where interested citizens, businesses and community groups work together toward a common needed facility.

Gun legislation is costly

Editor:

Buried in the upcoming firearms legislation, and not publicized by the press, is the first requirement that as of January 1, 1996, all firearms owners will have to be registered. Then, two years later, in January 1998, all firearms will have to be registered.

The current estimate is that in 1993 it cost $99,000,000 to register the 1.2 million restricted firearms in Canada. There were 12 (twelve!) successful traces of firearms used in illegal activities (Globe & Mail Nov. 26). The cost estimates for the new registration system range from $400 million to $600 million. As rifle and shotguns account for less than 3% of the violent crime in Canada, it seems rather like using a sledgehammer to attack a mosquito.

At the same time, the same government (?) is seeking ways to cut social programs! I guess $400 to $600 million (per year!) is not real money to them.

Your MP is home for the holidays.

MPP Hodgson supports "flashing green light" Bill

Victoria-Haliburton MPP Chris Hodgson spoke in favour of Private Member's Bill 192, which gives volunteer firefighters the right to use flashing green lights on their private vehicles while responding to fire calls.

Following are Hodgson's comments (in part) during third reading on the Bill, which was subsequently passed:

"It is an honour and a pleasure to support Bill 192, a private member's bill to amend the Highway Traffic Act. I too want to share in this house's congratulations to my colleague, the member from Wellington. I believe that he's addressed a problem that has arisen throughout rural Ontario. I know this summer, as I attended functions, I was often talking with firefighters in the riding of Victoria-Haliburton. They had heard that there might be changes to allow for flashing green lights on volunteers' vehicles and they wanted to know what was happening.

Citizens in Victoria-Haliburton's rural municipalities rely almost entirely on volunteer firefighters for the provision of fire protection services. These volunteers are usually on call 24 hours a day, if any emergency happens, seven days a week. They give up their evenings and their weekends to take courses necessary for the upgrading of their skills and the knowledge of firefighting practices and procedures.

I am in complete support of Bill 192 because it will undoubtedly result in a quicker response and safer response to the scene of a blaze or other emergency because they would be clearly identified as emergency firefighting personnel. With the passage of this bill, the public will also become accustomed to realizing what a flashing green light means and respond appropriately."

Shona, left and Cindy Malloy help pastry chef Michael Homestead put the finishing touches on a gingerbread house suitably decorated for the season. The house will be the prize in a draw sponsored by the R & W European Bakery in Minden.

Trails and tours proponents discuss potential development projects

by Andrew Milne

The Chamber of Commerce met with participants in its trails and tours initiative December 10.

The meeting at Wig-a-Mog was to select from a list of potential development projects for tourist attractions in Haliburton County.

Chamber president Brian Dean explains that the original idea for doing a study of trails and tours in Haliburton came from a group of people that started meeting during the depths of the recession to discuss ways to improve the local economy — and specifically, the tourism economy.

"The process," says Dean, "started back in November of 1991. In tourism we were in the midst of a real nosedive in our county. Many of the property owners plus a lot of interested groups — Nordic trails, HCSA, private citizens, and business groups — met at PineStone, and actually were served the last meal that came out of PineStone before it closed. So it's always been known as the Last Supper, obviously."

"Out of that group," he continues, "and along with the assistance of personnel from the Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Rec (MCTR) in Peterborough — the group met monthly from 1991 onward over the period of the next year and a half, and came up with what they thought were the main possible potential items for tourism and development here in the county. And through their meetings it really came forward that one of the answers to the tourism difficulties here was to come up with a first class, world class Trails and Tours program."

The study was commissioned in July of 1994, with a $57,500 grant from the MCTR and with local money (the ministry called for 35 percent to be raised locally) donated by concerned business owners and municipal governments. The consulting firm Marshall, Macklin and Monaghan of Whitby was commissioned to actually do the study, which is meant to be carried out in three phases — first, the assessment of what currently exists, second, the identification of potential developments that can be done to improve the system, and third, a plan for the marketing of the entire network.

The December 10 meeting was to take a list of potential projects generated during phase I and pare it down, says Dean. And in the aftermath of that meeting, the five projects phase II will look at developing, are:

— establishment of a trail authority board, to coordinate use and development of trails and tours — enhancing certain aspects of the current system, "to bring it up to par", — organizing and coordinating the disparate systems of trails and tours that exist and linking them together

— establishing three "trailheads" to serve as focal points from which the trails can be accessed — establishing central trails or corridors (Dean suggests highways) from which much of the system can be accessed.

Phase II is to be completed by the end of December. Phase III is to be completed by late January 1995.

"The overall theme and the overall philosophy of the whole trails and tours system," says Dean, "is that we work together as stake holders, as interested groups, as private citizens. We are working on a whole system in harmony and we are working together on it. So therefore what we will be working on first of all before anything else gets started is ensuring that local user groups, local landowners, etc. etc. etc. understand each other and are willing to work together in a totally positive manner. Without the community behind us, this program will not work at all."

Hamilton scores six in Westside's 9-3 win over Home

by Jerry Grozelle

STAMP 8, HARTWICK 2

Sid Stamp Fuels skated to an 8-2 victory over Hartwick Construction in the first of three Minden Men's Hockey Association games December 12 at the Minden arena.

Taking a 2-0 lead in the first half of the game, the Stamp crew added six more in the second period, while holding Hartwick to a pair of replies.

Scott Nesbitt scored a hat trick for the winners and helped set up two others. Boomer Stamp added a pair of goals and one assist to the tally and single markers went to Tom Miscio, Eldon Bull and Trini Elias. Dave Dollo and Gary Harrison contributed three assists each and single helpers went to Bull and Jarrett Campbell.

Ivan Ingram and Dean Sisson were the Hartwick sharpshooters, with one each. Andrew Burke, Bruce Pettes and Ritchie Mills picked up one assist apiece for the Hartwick team.

WESTSIDE 9, HOME 3

Scott Hamilton added six goals to his season total, leading Westside Jug City to a 9-3 victory over Home Hardware in the second game of the evening. Hamilton added another three points to his credit by assisting on all three of the other goals.

The first half of the game was close and when the buzzer sounded the two teams were tied at 3-3.

The second half belonged exclusively to Westside, as the Jug City crew doubled its first-period output while holding Home Hardware scoreless.

Craig Crowe, Scott Danilko and Monty Miscio were the other Westside snipers, with one each. Crowe had three assists to go with his goal, Danilko and John Fedeski had two apiece and Andy Campbell had one.

Dave Hartwick scored twice for Close call: Westside Jug City goaltender Terry Crowe was lucky on this one as a Home Hardware shot missed the far corner. Westside skated to a 9-3 win over the Home team in the second of three Minden Men's Hockey Association games at the Minden arena. Scott Hamilton picked up nine points in the game, scoring six times and adding three assists.

Home Hardware and Wyatt Nesbitt notched the other marker. Nesbitt helped set up both of Dave Hartwick's goals, while Barry Shaw and Andy Schollig had single assists.

KDD 5, TIMES 5

Kountry Double D built up a 4-0 first-period lead over The Times in the late game. But The Times rebounded to end the game in a 5-5 deadlock.

Ben Manuge scored two goals and assisted on a third for the KDD team, while Greg Alexander, Chris Grossman and John Hewson netted one. Hewson also picked up a pair of assists, as did John Teljeur and Charlie Teljeur.

Paul Mayo and Jeff Howe notched two apiece for The Times cause. Howe also had two assists. The single goal was added by Jeff Campbell. Doug Schell helped set up two Times goals as well.

The league plays three games every Monday evening, beginning at 8, 9 and 10 p.m.

Redmen blank Wildcats 5-0

by Jerry Grozelle

The I.E. Weldon Wildcats lacked any teeth or claws when they came to Haliburton on December 14. The Kawartha High School Hockey League game wasn't like the previous meeting with the HHSS Redmen. In that game, the Wildcats forced the Redmen to play catch-up hockey for two periods.

This time, the Wildcats' the only highlight was to hold the Redmen off the scoreboard for the first period. The Redmen scored four times in the second and added one in the third for a 5-0 win and a shutout for goaltender Justin Rowden.

One other accomplishment the Wildcats can lay claim to is holding the league's top scorer, Mark Stamp, to a single assist.

Josh Burk scored what proved to be the winning goal of the game at the 1:46 mark of the second period. Bill Dovell assisted.

Mark Morissette then netted a natural hat trick (three in a row) in a span of six minutes and 29 seconds. His third was scored with 13 seconds left in the middle frame. Stamp and Andrew McKelvey set up the first one; Jackie Morrison and McKelvey assisted on Morissette's second and Morrison drew the lone assist on the third.

Jonathan Bishop scored the only goal of the third frame, from Morrison and Morissette.

The game was relatively penalty free. Weldon took four penalties, only one of which resulted in a power play goal for the Redmen. Haliburton players made only two trips to the penalty box.

The Redmen were scheduled to take part in a tournament in North Bay this past weekend. The next league game will be tomorrow (Tuesday) in Campbellford at 1:30 p.m. They don't have another home game slated until January 11 when they will take on Norwood.

Cheeseman scores four goals in Legion win over Cannington

Two out-of-town games on December 7 and 11 saw the Minden Legion bantam B team emerge undefeated.

The Monarchs came home from Manvers on the 7th with a tie.

Cory Ball scored an unassisted goal in the first period and the Monarchs held that 1-0 advantage into the third period when Manvers tied the game. It ended in a 1-1 draw.

Cannington played host to the Monarchs on the 11th. The home team took it on the chin, giving up an 8-1 loss to the Monarchs.

Minden opened up a 2-0 lead in the first period with Jason Kasepчук and Matt Cheeseman beating the Cannington goalie. Jason Horsley set up Kasepчук's goal, while Rod Upton and Kirk Smith assisted on Cheeseman's marker.

Minden went ahead 3-0 when Cheeseman notched his second of the game four minutes into the second frame. Smith and Steve Hutchinson assisted on that one.

The Cannington boys scored their only goal of the game about a minute later, cutting Minden's lead to 3-1.

With 3:36 to go in the second period, Cheeseman rounded out his hat trick. Kasepчук and Gavin Gartshore set him up.

The Monarchs doubled their output in the third period, adding four unanswered markers for the 8-1 victory.

Cheeseman scored his fourth in a row for Minden, from Smith and Philip Daniels, a minute into the third.

A couple of minutes later Kasepчук scored on a solo effort. Horsley made it 7-1 with 3:32 to go in the game, from Kasepчук and Bull. Hutchinson ended the scoring with 1:35 left in the game. Daniels and Bull assisted on the last goal.

The Legion boys rounded out the 1994 portion of the season with a pair of games this past weekend. The next time they will take to the ice is on Sunday January 8 when they will tangle with Sunderland at the Minden arena. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

Monarchs win consolation championship

An eight-team bantam hockey tournament in Minden on December 10 saw the host Minden Monarchs win the consolation championship.

A double overtime loss to Coldwater in the first game of the tournament put the Monarchs into the consolation round.

Minden held a 1-0 lead until three seconds left in the third period when Coldwater tied it up. After a scoreless first overtime frame, the format of the tournament required pulling players from each team every minute.

Both teams were down to three skaters when Coldwater notched the winning goal.

Chris Nielsen scored the Minden goal, from Ryan Anderson and Donald Todd.

Minden's second game, against Fenelon Falls, was the only lopsided match of the tournament. The Monarchs defeated Fenelon 8-2, advancing to the consolation final.

Darren Mills paced the Minden attack with four goals and three assists. Ben Ripley scored a hat trick and added three assists to the winning tally. Adam Carpenter was the other marksman for Minden. Sheamus Donnery helped the Minden cause with four assists and George Godfrey had one helper.

The consolation final, against Cannington, was a nail-biter that saw the Monarchs overcome a 2-0 first-period deficit to even the score at 2-2 in the second frame and win it by a 3-2 score.

Mills scored the game winner with 2:42 left in the third period. Nathan Stephenson assisted. That was the second goal of the game for Mills. He got Minden's first marker with the assistance of Steve Ecclestone. Anderson and Nielsen set Ecclestone up for the second Minden goal, tying the game at 2-2.

The tournament championship was won by Haliburton in a tough match against Coldwater.

Every game of the tournament was close, with the exception of the Minden-Fenelon game. All the rest were one-goal wins.

Minden midget A Monarchs edge Port Perry 2-1

by Jerry Grozelle

Minden's midget A hockey team proved it can tangle with the roughest of opposition and still come out on top.

The midget A Monarchs went to Port Perry for a game on December 10 and when the battle was over, Minden had a hard-fought 2-1 win.

The game was a chippy affair with an abundance of penalties, about half of which were for roughing.

Port Perry got on the scoreboard first, a minute and 10 seconds after the opening faceoff.

Before the period was five minutes old, the Monarchs had climbed back onto even terms with an unassisted goal by Chris Eskelin.

The middle frame was scoreless, but two and a half minutes into the third, Ben Crego scored what proved to be the game winner. Dennis Woods drew the assist.

The following evening, the Monarchs played host to Beaverton. Showing the effects of the previous night's game, the Minden boys gave up a 4-2 decision to the visitors.

Scott Bailey opened the scoring for Minden with the only goal of the first period. Woods and Jeff Wray assisted.

The Monarchs opened up a two-goal lead in the second frame. Curtis Reynolds was the sniper, scoring on an unassisted effort.

Port Perry netted two goals before the middle period was over and added a pair of unanswered goals early in the third to snatch the win out of Minden's grasp.

After a pair of games this past weekend, the midget A Monarchs don't have another league game until Monday, January 9 in Manvers. The next home game is slated for Saturday, January 14 at 9 p.m. against Millbrook.

In the meantime, the Monarchs will play an exhibition game against Gravenhurst at the Dysart Community Centre in Haliburton on Tuesday, January 3 at 8:30 p.m.

Consumer's Choice Draw raises $14,000 for HCSA

Brett Bradbeer of Thornhill was this year's winner of the annual Consumer's Choice draw, staged every year by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association. The draw is the HCSA's biggest single fund-raising event of the year.

Bradbeer came to Haliburton to claim his prize on December 10. His choice was Polaris 500 Indy, from Hyperformance. Winners of the draw have their choice between Arctic Cat, Polaris, Ski-doo or Yamaha sleds. That's why the association has called it the "consumer's choice".

The 1994 version raised more than $14,000 for the association. The money is used for trail system improvements, maintenance of groomers.

HCSA member Bob Bryant sold $14,865 worth of tickets himself at the Snowmobile show in Markham. Ticket sales run throughout the year until the annual draw.

Bradbeer bought the winning ticket at the show.

"Some of my friends

buy books of tickets," Bradbeer said. "I had already bought several tickets on other things at the show so I only bought one on this draw."

Bantams earn first win over Ops in 5 years

All the cards fell into place when the Minden Monarch bantam A hockey squad battled with Ops in league play last week.

The Monarchs edged the host Ops team 3-2 to record their first win over Ops since the 1988-89 season. Ops currently leads the league, with Minden in second place.

Ops held a 1-0 advantage going into the third period, but Sheamus Donnery notched the equalizer, from Rob Camelon, a minute and a half into the last frame.

Ops went ahead 2-1 at the 8:26 mark of the 15-minute period.

Twelve seconds later, Minden was back on even terms with Donnery's second marker of the game. Darren Mills and Camelon assisted.

Donald Todd put Minden in front for the first time in the game with 3:54 left. Matt Hamilton and Ecclestone set that one up.

The Monarchs had to work to protect that slim margin to game's end and they were rewarded for their effort with the 3-2 win.

Monarchs' goalie Ashley Walker did everything but stand on his head to help Minden earn its first win over Ops in five years.

Paul Prentice of Prentice-Berry presents the keys to two Ski-Doo snowmobiles to Sr. Constable Mike Landry of the Minden OPP. The OPP uses the machines to patrol snowmobile trails.

Minden tykes win B Championship in Bobcaygeon

The B division championship of a tournament in Bobcaygeon on Saturday, December 10 was won by Minden's tyke A Monarchs.

The Monarchs tangled with a team from Lindsay in their first game, giving up a 5-1 decision to a team that plays in a different league.

Sean Keaney was the Minden sharp-shooter in that game.

The loss put the Monarchs into the running for the B division championship. They met Manvers for the first time this season in their second game of the tournament. The result was a 2-1 win, which advanced the Monarchs to the B championship.

Nicky Wallace and Cody Mills scored the Minden goals against

Manvers. (Manvers plays in the same league as Minden, but they hadn't played against each other yet this season.)

The B championship game was against the host Bobcaygeon squad. Minden came out on top by a 6-2 margin to earn the B division hardware. Jon Petch led the Minden scoring in the championship game with a pair of markers. Wallace, Sean Keaney, Mills and Aaron Keaney added one goal apiece to the winning tally.

Double gold: Janene Garbutt of the Minden Figure Skating Club is presented with her gold pin and certificate from the Canadian Figure skating Association by Joachim Matysek, vice-president of the club, in recognition of passing her gold freeskate test. On December 11, she passed her Westminster Waltz to complete her gold dances. Garbutt says she hopes to achieve triple gold in the spring by completing her artistic tests. Jane Symons of Minden was Garbutt's professional coach for her gold freesake and for the majority of her dances. Lisa Carr is now coaching Garbutt.

Municipal office break-ins

The Anson, Hindon and Minden and Lutterworth Township offices have both been broken into recently. In both cases, the would-be thieves left empty-handed.

The culprit(s) entered the Lutterworth municipal office through a window in the lower level at the council chamber. A door to the upstairs office was kicked in and an attempt was made to break into the safe. Some drywall was broken, but when the concrete wall of the safe was encountered the attempt was abandoned.

The AH&M office had a couple of doors and a cabinet damaged, but nothing was taken during the early morning hours of December 13. Office staff discovered the break-in when they arrived for work just before 8 a.m. last Tuesday morning.

Both incidents are still under investigation.

Drama group wants to build theatre onto High School in Haliburton

by Andrew Milne

Local drama enthusiasts are considering building a theatre onto the high school in Haliburton.

First, however, they have to come up with half of the money and convince the provincial government that the local community wants it.

Says Curtis Eastmure, "What the province is looking for through their local rep is that there's got to be some assurance that this is going to be sustainable... and that the community actually wants it."

Eastmure is a member of the local little theatre and directed the recent production of Brigadoon. He says local theatre buffs have been kicking the idea of building a theatre around for some time now. Most local productions are currently mounted in the high school auditorium — which is essentially a gymnasium with a very small, very high stage tucked into one end.

"The little theatre has been very frustrated over the years performing on a very inadequate facility — in a gymnasium," said Eastmure. "And there were a bunch of us who got together this summer to sort of kick the idea around of purchasing another sort of property. We made some preliminary enquiries, but that was about it. So we've been kicking this around for a while."

But when Director of Education Brad Saunders announced that the provincial Ministry of Education and Training (MET) had put in place an initiative that would help to fund such a facility, Eastmure and company got interested.

The initiative — called the Multi-Use Initiative — was announced in mid 1994 and is intended to fund what the government calls multi-use facilities in schools — buildings or additions that have more than one intended use. The local group felt that a theatre facility attached to the high school would fit the provincial criteria nicely.

"All of this is," says Saunders, "I hasten to say at this point — very very much in the infancy of the whole project. We're simply trying to find out if there is an interest, and then of course whoever is interested then has to go to the board and see if the board is similarly interested. Right now we're just trying to get the good ideas out of the local community."

Eastmure's group was, however, dismayed at first when they found out what was involved in making the application.

"It's like with a lot of these government applications," says Eastmure. "You know, yes, we have money for communities and schools. And nothing is mentioned in the prospectus that comes down that indicates hey, this is great but you have to raise 50 percent. So this is the first stumbling block we ran into. And then we find out there's no sense even putting an application in until you have your 50 percent raised and sitting in the bank. So what does that leave us with?"

"Well, we haven't stopped the process yet," Eastmure continues. "I think there's money there, and I think if we can do something we'll do it. I think the problem is we have a very short time frame. So I think our plan is and the recommendation is to have another meeting on the 10th of January. And I think we're going to bring Murray Fearrey in and we're going to bring Jeanne Anthon in, and we'll sit down and sort of say here's the opportunity, we've got some committed people in this community and they're going to do some fundraising. What do you think the options would be of getting a debenture? If we did that then the provincial government would accept that as an application."

Commemorative stamp

John Kup, a retired postal employee, requested county council's endorsement of a proposal he is submitting to Canada Post. Kup would like to see a commemorative stamp celebrating the 200th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Chandler Haliburton in 1996.

Haliburton was the first chairman of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company, which encouraged emigration from England to Canada.

Kup has approached Dysart et al, the county and the Haliburton County Chamber of Commerce asking for support for a commemorative stamp.

"I thought it would be a good idea to promote the county," Kup said.

Things are looking up

With a little help from mother nature and a lot of snow making, Sir Sam's Ski Area opened December 10. Several runs and tows were available to satisfy the avid downhill skier and snow board enthusiast who just couldn't wait any longer for the season to begin.

Police seek help in Hydro theft

Officers from the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police are currently investigating a break-in at the Ontario Hydro yard.

An estimated $27,000 in property was removed from the yard on the night of December 14. Among the items taken were tires and several rolls of copper wire.

The intruders gained access by cutting through the lock on the gate.

Because of the size of the items taken, police say a large truck must have been used in the robbery. They are asking for the public's assistance in identifying the vehicle and driver. The police are particularly interested in information regarding a Ryder rental truck seen in the community Wednesday evening.

Cottage break-in charges

A Toronto man, formerly of West Guilford, has been charged with a number of break and enters and possession of stolen merchandise after being stopped in Aurora for impaired driving.

When police stopped the vehicle, it was determined that the car had been stolen and that it contained items believed to be taken in break-ins in the Kennisis Lake area. Police were on the look-out for the vehicle, after a parking ticket for the car was found at the scene of one of the three break-ins by Constables Ron Buchanan and Brian Sachs.

Charged is 37 year old Larry Porter. Police have also charged a young offender who was in the car at the time it was stopped.

Christmas assembly is a happy celebration before the break

by Misty Bennett, HHSS student reporter

Amid the chaos, tension and stress of the final two weeks' assignments and tests, the student body is busily trying hard to put together the high school's traditional Christmas assembly.

Slated for December 23, the last day of school before the Christmas break, the assembly should provide some light-hearted entertainment for the students. The last day is usually low-key and always brings a bit of fun to the students.

This year the program will be quite diverse. The content will range from comical skits to musical interludes, including vocalization and some pieces from the high school bands.

Yvette Foster is in charge of the Christmas assembly this year and is bravely taking control of the planning and time allotment for all groups involved. Despite the large amount of interest, this year the assembly will only be 76 minutes long. This time limit may result in not everyone being able to take part in the celebration.

Mr. Regina, the high school music teacher, will be taking some pieces from the Christmas concert on December 21 and putting them to use at the assembly. Also hoping to perform is a band comprised of: Bob Sisson, Kevin Brezina, Ben Ripley, Morgan Talaba and Luke Talaba. They will be playing a song with a Christmas theme and one other song of their choice. Cassie Weyrich and Katie Rodley will be singing solos as well.

This year's OAC's plan on presenting a comical skit based on their own version of 'Twas the Night Before Christmas. This will be an important year for the OAC's. If they can manage to do a good job this year there will be a high chance that the OAC's will be included in the program for years to come.

The County of Haliburton

CHRISTMAS OFFICE HOURS

The County of Haliburton Administration, Land Division and Social Services offices will be closed Monday, December 26th to Monday, January 2nd inclusive in fulfillment of Social Contract obligations. These offices will re-open on Tuesday, January 3rd.

The County of Haliburton Roads Department will be closed on December 26th, 27th, and January 2nd.

A great year, and tenth anniversary for Minden Lions Club

1995!! It is hard to believe that another year has passed. They seem to just fly by. The Minden Lions wish everyone a very Happy and Healthy coming year. The community's support has allowed us to be very generous with our donations again in '94.

If you saw The Times and The Echo last month, you are aware of us donating over $44,000.00 to local causes and organizations. Without your support that would not be possible. This shows that volunteers are the backbone of any community. If you are not a member of a volunteer organization, you are missing one of the most interesting happenings in a life time. The service clubs of Minden are only a small part of the volunteer activities that go on in Haliburton County. If it was not for all the service clubs and volunteer groups, your elected officials would not be able to do many of their proposals without raising the funds and manpower through taxation.

In mid-October of 1994, the Minden Lions club entered their tenth year of Lionism. On October 5, 1985, the club received its Charter from Lions International. In May of this year, we will celebrate the occasion with a special Charter Night dinner attended by many district and other dignitaries. President Tom Gardner has a special committee working on the plans and everything seems to be falling into place. The District Governor on his last visit to our club, expressed his amazement at the accomplishments we had achieved in only ten years.

With our membership staying between twenty and thirty for those years, it makes our accomplishments that much more outstanding.

Bingo - Bingo - We start the New Year off with our regular nights on Thursdays at the Community Centre on January 5. Early bird is 7 p.m. regular games 7:15 p.m. Regular game prizes are $60 and the jackpot is $500.

A reminder, the early bird is a full card game with half the money going to the winner and the other half to our club's commitment of $100,000.00 to the county hospital fund.

The Luxury Draw winners for December will be drawn on Thursday, December 29 because there is no bingo on the 22nd.

SPREAD THE WORD:

Through the assistance of the Lions Club, the Community Action Group (CAG) on drug and alcohol abuse has been getting the word out on the responsible use of alcohol. The club has assisted the organization by sponsoring a series of ads similar to the poster held by CAG chair Michele Bromley and Lion President Tom Gardner.

Home hosts annual gift sale

December 3-9, 1994.
Saturday, we enjoyed the music of John Menzies. Thank you John.

Sunday Estella Burch continued our story and in the evening chapel service with Rev. John Burgess and Mrs. Roland playing the organ.

Monday we thoroughly enjoyed our shopping spree at Home Hardware. We were treated to coffee and cookies and were given special attention by the staff, we enjoyed this outing immensely.

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Tuesday chapel service was with Pastor Fast and crafts with Dottie in the afternoon.

Wednesday Dale English assisted his mother in decorating our home. Thanks to you Dale, it is appreciated.

Thursday we held our first annual fantastic Christmas Gift sale in the auditorium, it was so successful we are going to do it again next year. We would take this opportunity to thank everyone who assisted in any way to make this sale so successful. Nine hundred and twenty-three dollars were raised by the many volunteers for the use of the residents here at Hyland Crest. We do appreciate all of you, without you, we could never have these functions.

Congratulations to the winners of the prizes which were donated to the cause by some very generous folks. We do appreciate all of you so very much, our families and friends and the many, many people who did so much for us. You are a wonderful bunch of people.

Friday we enjoyed the music of Al Blanchard, Frank Faulkner, Neil Howe, Marilyn Jiles, Lloyd Madill and Julie Chalmers. Volunteers were Pearl Cowen, Dottie Muirhead, Donna Wallace, Janice Rachar, Doris Brown and we thank all these people for bringing us a great afternoon of music and friendship.

We welcome Mary Bowins to our home and hope she enjoys many years of happiness here with us.

I am sorry to report the passing of Lillian Davidson. She will be greatly missed by all.

It is nice to see the sunshine again, hope it continues till I write to you again.

The halls are decked at Staannworth Court

The halls and apartments at Staannworth Court are all decked out for Christmas - a festive air engulfs the environment.

A happy Christmas dinner was enjoyed by the residents as they all took part in providing delicious appropriate dishes for the occasion. The evening ended on a joyful note as members of the junior choirs from the Gospel Church led by Mrs. Fast rang out the Christmas message.

We said goodbye to Len and Mabel Trodd, the first of our Snowbirds to leave for the warmer climate.

We have two new residents we've welcomed to our Court, Margaret McIntosh and Katie Parker, both of whom are struggling to get settled before the holiday.

We are all remembering to share our goods with the Food Bank collection. Jean Cowan has been missed from the bingo night lately, but we are hopeful she'll be her bouncy self again soon.

We wish you all a very Happy and Blessed Christmas.

Is the Mother Earth 'fighting back' with new lethal viruses?

Your holiday must include a look at The Hot Zone (Random House, Inc). It's not a soft porn video, but a book by Richard Preston that tells a terrifying true story.

"Hot zone" is technical jargon for the area in which a deadly micro-organism is located. The book concerns the outbreak of disease caused by a mysterious class of viruses called the "filovirus".

Arising in Africa, the Marburg virus kills 25 per cent of its victims while another called Ebola is 50 to 90 percent lethal. A person who "crashes" with the virus suffers the agony of bleeding through every body opening including the eyes, which turn bright red, ejection of sloughed linings of the gut and intestinal tract from the mouth and anus, and liquefaction of tissue and organs.

For most of humankind's history, our numbers were small and we were widely dispersed so the outbreak of highly infectious disease would quickly peter out. But as human populations rise and people move from rural living into the dense concentrations of permanent settlements and cities, our species now offers a huge protoplasmic target for an infectious agent.

Global travel and the world economy encourage the circulation of goods and people who harbour invisible stowaways. That is how exotic species like the purple loosestrife, zebra mussel and the Hong Kong flu have spread spectacularly. A new infectious agent can sweep the planet at nearly the speed of sound. Human populations juxtaposed with swine and ducks in China create a peculiar incubator for exotic flu viruses that cycle through the three hosts while exchanging pieces of genes and generating a new viral combinations.

Similarly, tropical rain forests are rich in species diversity and encourage the creation of new organisms through shared hosts and exchange of genetic material. HIV that causes AIDS, apparently arose in Africa when a mutant virus was able to jump from a monkey host into humans.

The Hot Zone documents the sudden appearance of filovirus in Africa and its rapid dispersal. Fortunately, it is only transmitted by direct contact with blood. A mutant that allowed it to be spread by cough would create an epidemiological nightmare.

The book has heroes, like Dr. Joseph McCormick, who, while investigating an Ebola outbreak, entered a hut of dying infected people and began to treat them. When a needle from a thrashing patient pricked him, McCormick chose to stay and continue to treat the people rather than flee to a big city hospital. Veterinarian Nancy Jaax, trying to find the basis of a filovirus outbreak in a monkey colony near Washington, chose to stay at work knowing that her beloved father was dying.

The book's most important lesson is that outbreaks of Ebola and Marburg viruses have been contained by sheer luck. As new technologies are created to deal with extremely infectious diseases like Ebola, nuclear energy and toxic chemicals, we are often told by experts to "trust us, the technology is foolproof." But "luck" can't be engineered into these technologies. The Hot Zone informs us there is no such thing as a "foolproof" technology because people find all sorts of novel ways to behave "foolishly."

When Ebola broke out in a monkey colony near Washington, technicians were reluctant to reveal all the facts (two who sniffed a vial of virus didn't want to be isolated in the "slammer"), careers and promotions were threatened, the buck was passed, and territorial battles broke out between local, state and army authorities.

People are not automatons and were affected by personal animosities, terror or naked ambition. The point is not that the authorities are evil or even flawed, but that like many of us, in a crisis, their actions will be influenced by an array of motives, not the least of which is paralyzing fear.

Preston ends the book with a warning: "The emerging viruses are surfacing from ecologically damaged parts of the earth. Many of them come from the tattered edges of tropical rain forests or tropical savanna that is being settled rapidly by people.

"The tropical rain forests are the deep reservoirs of life on the planet...(including) viruses, since all living things carry viruses. In a sense, the earth is mounting an immune response against the...flooding infection of people, the dead spots of concrete all over the planet...The extreme amplification of the human race...has suddenly produced a very large quantity of meat...Nature has interesting ways of balancing itself...The earth's immune system... has recognized the presence of the human species and is starting to kick in. The earth is attempting to rid itself of an infection by the human parasite. Perhaps AIDS is the first step in a natural process of clearance."

This book is an important warning for modern civilization, and it's not fiction.

Acid rain report

The following report on acid precipitation was recorded at the Ministry of Environment and Energy site near Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

This report covers the period December 4-10:

Dec. 4: 5 mm of rain with a pH of 4.3, tracked from Lake Erie.

Dec. 5: 17 mm of rain with a pH of 4.6, tracked from Lake Erie.

Dec. 9: 4 cm of snow with a pH of 4.7, tracked from Lake Ontario.

Dec. 10: 10 cm of snow with a pH of 5.2, tracked from northern Ontario and Georgian Bay.

Environmental damage to lakes and streams is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH readings of less than 4.7. pH readings less than 4.0 are considered serious.

At this season what a great job volunteers do, collecting and packing items donated from the many places in our village and area. This effort is very much appreciated. We, who lived during the Depression, know how difficult it was to make ends meet. A great big thanks to the Leonards and those who helped in any way to brighten some people's Christmas.

***

The three of us from The Terrace who go to Stanhope Seniors shuffleboard on Tuesdays and the Stanhope monthly lunches, really appreciate the great friendliness we have found there. Many good wishes to you all who made us so welcome. Merry Christmas and the Best for 1995.

***

Everyone in the area should be appreciative for the work done by the municipal road crew for moving the snow and especially on Main Street - no snowbanks to wade through! They work early and late in the most awful storms. We send a great big thank you to you all for keeping the sidewalks clear as well.

***

The choir from the North Road Chapel have been busy as they visited once again at The Terrace and The Court and many other places, bringing their Christmas music for all to share. We are most thankful to hear those pleasant young voices and to join them.

***

What a great idea! The Irene Moore family had their annual Christmas party on Sunday, December 11 at the Al Brydson home in Bracebridge with exchange of homemade Christmas tree decorations and a great party. Members of the family came from Toronto, Minden and Boskung on a very stormy Sunday.

***

A party for ladies and youngsters was held at Lochlin Church on Monday evening with a good crowd enjoying pot luck, some fun, and gifts. The ladies learned who their Secret Pal had been and took another for the coming year.

***

Most bowling leagues had their Christmas parties last week with more great games to come in the New Year.

***

Good news as Bob Vick was to return home after surgery in Kingston. All the best to you Bob.

***

Tuesday evening winners at Lochlin Centre on Tuesday, December 13 included Reta Croft, Orval Francis, Dorothy Milburn and Annie Schroder with most lone hands going to Betty Curry. A birthday cake was presented on the occasion of Annie's 85th birthday. Congrats Annie!

***

Minden Legion Branch 636 euchre game winners for December 16 included

Iris Taylor and Orval Francis with most lone hands, Barbara Kenneth and Jim Bradbury with the highs and Ann Baker, Bill Menard, Pete Learn, Marie Dennie, Iris Taylor and B. Kenneth.

***

Club 35 euchre game winners for December 12 were Verna Sawyer with the 50/50, Helen Henderson, Bill Kleinschmidt, June Alsop, Garth Windsor and Olive Daniels. Most lone hands went to Joan Banning and the next games at Club 35 will be December 19.

***

Monday, December 12 was a turkey dinner for the Minden Legion Seniors and everyone enjoyed their meal and the entertainment by the Grandfathers 4 Plus 1. Door prize winners were Muriel Green and Norah Briggs and Kristen Wells. The same group had their Tuesday afternoon euchre games on December 13 with most lone hands going to Ida Young and others Verna McDonald, Bill Menard and Jack Chilton. A pot luck will be held January 9 at 6 p.m. and regular games January 10 at the usual time with all euchre players welcome.

***

No card games at St. Paul's Anglican church hall until January 9 when all will be welcome to begin the games at 1:30 p.m.

***

Christmas hours at Minden Library: Open December 23, 28, 29 and 30 then starting January 3 back to regular hours.

***

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Anne Schell, Lila

Gray, Dorothy Boice and Gladys McKeown. Our thoughts are with you all.

***

Sing ye joyful happy notes
Christmastime is near Sing out the olden Yuletide songs
To spread bright sparkling cheer.
Carol at your neighbour's homes,
For festive, jolly meetings,
And shout "A Merry Christmas Friends"

That cheeriest of greetings.
Patricia Clafford.

***

Do you ever think as you walk along
Of the things you might have done?
It's time to get your mind in gear
With positive thoughts for a New Year,
What's past is gone,
There's no reprieve,
You must go on.
So look up to the blue sky above
There's someone there,
Your troubles to share,
Winter came with many feet of snow,
Children so happy and on the go,
Scenery for us we hardly see,
Except for snow work, you must agree,
Country folk just go along
With snow shovel or blower
They are really busy,
Cold fingers and toes are there for all,
So take a second, it isn't long
To gaze around our picture world
And be thankful we see it so well.
Jay.

***

May you all have a wonderful Christmas and all the best for 1995.

Rule of thumb for smart drinkers

If you choose to drink, enjoy. But before you sip, here are some tips to keep your risk of alcohol problems low.

- Tip 1. Count your drinks. Have no more than 12 drinks a week and no more than 4 drinks (men) or 3 drinks (women) on any day. The less you drink, the lower your risk.
- Tip 2. Count the time between drinks. Start slow and allow yourself one hour before your next drink to avoid becoming drunk.
- Tip 3. Give yourself a breather between drinks. Mineral water, dealcoholized beer and fruit drinks are good substitutes for alcohol.
